Hello Ellendale High School,

Wow! We finally finished the yearbook! There were so many good memories that happened this year from winning the Homecoming game to winning the District Championship in Volleyball and Girls Basketball. We also had our One Act Play place at state. Wrestlers placed at State as well, and, of course, we won the Cowbell!

Oh, and did I mention that we are having a new gym built? Also, the elementary wing is being completely remodeled. It is SO exciting. Hopefully everything will be ready for the upcoming school year.

This yearbook is filled with bits and pieces of the various groups, activities, and memories of this school from the 2010-2011 school year. I'm so glad I could share them with you! Enjoy!

Yours Truly,

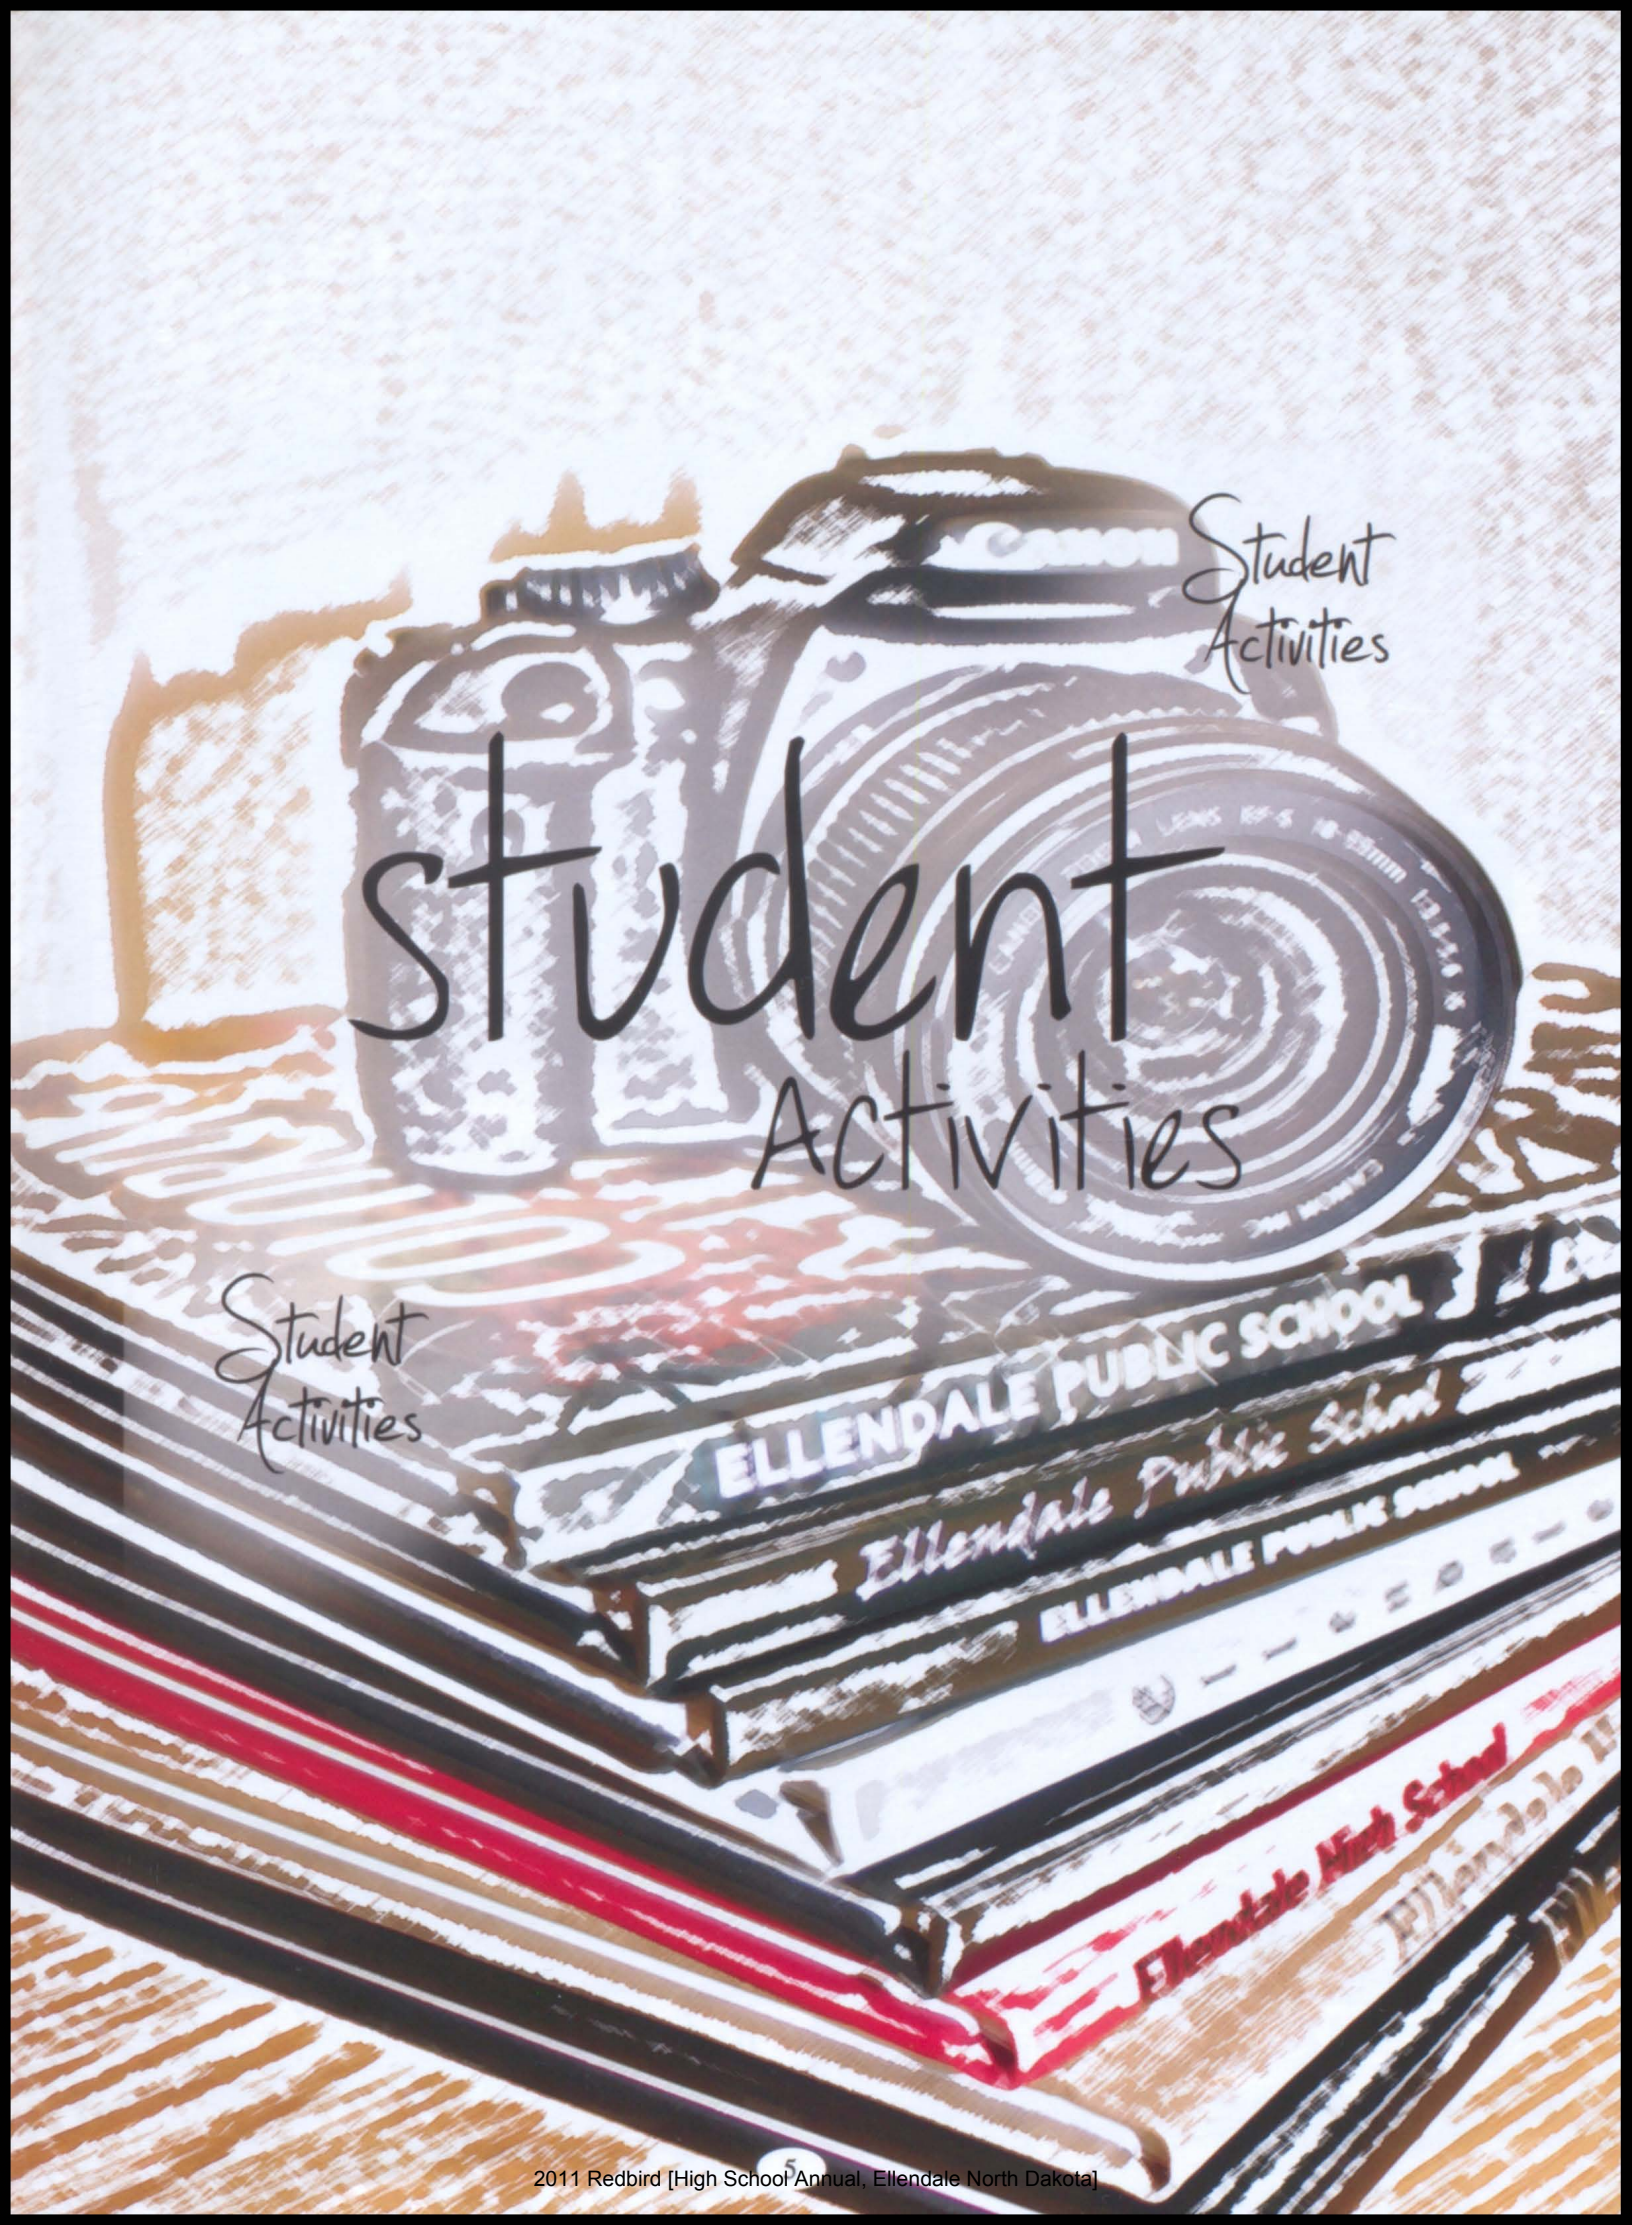

Redbird

P.S. Please note, putting the yearbook together is the coolest thing EVER! :)

Senior Class Poem

We all have a story people love to recall. Whether it's in the classroom or wandering the halls. People think they know us because we cause riots and create a fuss. But there's a secret behind each one of us.

Sean worked at Char's Food Pride and everyone is jealous of his sweet ride.

Wade is known for his crazy pants, but no one will stand a chance against his debating rants.

Meliah is always good for a hug; with some music she will cut a rug.

McKenzie's voice is that of a star, every time she sings, she raises the bar.

Alan is known for his computer craze and he has not gotten out of his hacking phase.

Jamie has a great assortment of rings, like flowers, peace signs, and other dazzling things.

Malachi is our newest addition; his graffiti will send you on a mission.

Donovan is funny and rather loud, but his mom's baseball cake always pleases the crowd.

Ryan seems to be YouTubing all the time and his randomness has no reason or rhyme.

Kiley texts a thousand times a day and she loves swinging her clubs in the month of April and May.

Erin's fashion sense you cannot diss and her trivia skills outmatch that of Kris.

Ashley is cursed at the knees and talking with her is such a breeze.

Tyler is also known as the handy man and boy can he ever get a tan.

Kinsey is a cowgirl down to the core, having her around is never a bore.

Erika is rather quiet but challenge her is floor hockey and you may start a riot.

Kyle is always found mowing in the spring but in the winter, snowmobiling is his thing.

John is extremely smart and his Air Force dance is his perfecting art.

Meg is surely an athletic beast but will never turn down a candy feast.

Audri has a smile that can light up a party. You can always count on her being tardy.

Raymond can lift a ton. He is always with Pat having some fun.

Sarah is a sweetheart, as for next year, hairstyling is only the start.

Amber is quick to plie and leap but keep her talking or she'll fall asleep.

Pat is pretty much a trey bomb beast and a comedian to say the least.

Abbie seems to be lacking some hustle and she always the one starting a tussle.

Andy has some pretty crazy dance moves, but every time he hunting those muskrats always lose.

Tanner is super-duper tall and when his is on the court he can really handle the ball.

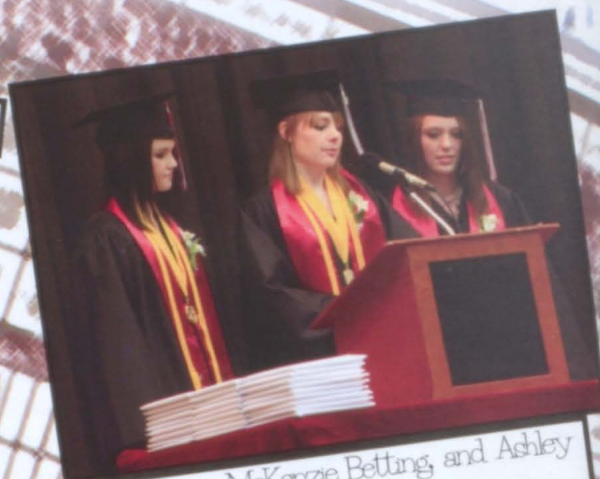

That wraps up our class imperfections. Now we're all guided in different directions. We hope we are never forgotten; Since we were the class that seemed so rotten. We reflect on how we used to be, but now we look ahead to the future we hope to see. We are the class of 2011 and we are the "ones" to remember.
